The undersigned, Guardian of Maurice, James Richard and Margaret Gallivan, minor heirs of John Gallivan, late of Bangor, in said County, deceased, respectfully represents that said minors are seized and possessed of the following described real estate, viz each one fifth interest, more or less in common and undivided in the late homestead of John Gallivan aforesaid, on the north side of Hancock street in said Bangor, subject to any legal claims there may be thereon by mortgage, lease or otherwise, it being the same described in a lease recorded in the Registry of Deeds for said County, Volume 446, page 180

That it would be for the benefit of said minors that said real estate should be sold, and the proceeds thereof put out at interest, or otherwise used for their benefit.

He therefore prays that license may be granted him to sell and convey the above described real estate at public or private sale, according to the requirement of law.

THE TROOPS IN WASHINGTON

PRESIDENT GRANT GIVES HIS REASONS FOR ORDERING TROOPS TO THE CAPITAL—PUBLIC PROPERTY TO BE GUARDED FROM POSSIBLE DANGER—THE PRESIDENT THE TRUSTEE OF THE PEOPLE—WASHINGTON THE ONLY SEAT OF GOVERNMENT — AN INAUGURATION ELSEWHERE INVALID

[Cor N Y Tribune]

WASHINGTON, Jan 8 Those who have criticised the President for ordering to the District of Columbia a few of the troops of the United States evidently forget how many million dollars' worth of public property there are in Washington, and that it is the duty of the President to see that no harm comes to it There may be no occasion to anticipate disorder here between now and the 4th of March or on that day, but in view of the popular excitement which has been manifested throughout the country, and the possibility of large gatherings of people in Washington, the President would fall short of his duty if he did not provide for any contingency that might arise It may be authoritatively announced that this has been one of the motives at least which has caused the President to order a few companies of troops to Washington, and that he has done it without consultation with the President of the Senate or with Republican members of the Senate Compromise Committee He considers himself, so to speak, the trustee of the people during his term of office for all the public property and will resort to any measures that may be necessary to defend it from mutilation or destruction by warlike demonstrations, should any be made and from occupation or possession by any but legal authorities

The President says he does not know what the President of the Senate or the Republican members of the Senate Committee on Counting the Electoral Vote think about their constitutional powers in the present crisis except as their views have been published, but he has made up his mind as to his own duty without help from them To use his own language "When all political power and responsibility vested in me by the suffrages of the people shall have expired by constitutional limitation, which will be on the 4th day of March I shall be ready willingly to surrender this responsibility, but until then I shall execute the office of President and protect and defend the Constitution It is not my province to determine the question of an election but to execute the laws Whoever is declared to be my constitutional successor to him will I surrender the reins of Government To me it is not Gov Hayes nor Gov Tilden but who is President, and whoever is so declared will be placed in possession of the executive power"

The President does not approve of the political demonstrations made by the Democrats in various parts of the country today He thinks the only effect of them will be to unnecessarily inflame the public mind, already too much excited He thinks it is the duty of every patriot to do all he can to allay apprehension and to subdue partisan spirit If any of the meetings to day have been held for the purpose of fostering incipient revolution he does not think they will be countenanced by sensible people and especially by those having an interest in the great financial business, and industrial enterprises of the country If the demonstrations were intended to overawe those constitutionally intrusted with the solution of the important questions now presented in connection with the Presidential election they would fail

President Grant has heard some talk which he supposes has the same inspiration with the meetings referred to of inaugurating Gov Tilden as President of the United States, even if he should not be declared constitutionally elected He says that an inauguration elsewhere than in Washington will be without effect His reasons are as follows Under the eighth section of the first article of the Constitution Congress is to exercise exclusive legislation in all cases whatsoever over a district, not exceeding ten miles square as may by cession of particular States and Territories and the acceptance of Congress become the seat of government of the United States By the act of July 16, 1790 Congress accepted a district of ten miles square, and further provided that on the first Monday in December, 1800, the seat of Government of the United States should be transferred to Washington, and all officers attached to the seat of Government should accordingly be removed thereto by their respective holders, and should after that day cease to be exercised elsewhere The amendatory act of 1791 and all subsequent legislation, he said, had recognized the District of Columbia and the City of Washington as the permanent seat of Government which could not be changed except upon the concurrent action of the two houses of Congress The President said that the exercise of Executive functions elsewhere than at Washington would be strictly unconstitutional and without force In this connection the President referred to the resolution of the House of Representatives last session, in which inquiry was made as to the official acts performed by him, and their nature, at places other than the seat of Government The President said that he had never performed executive acts elsewhere than at Washington, that in the first six years of his administration during the heated term he had made fortnightly visits to Washington, when he transacted all official business requiring his attention and during the past two years all records and Executive acts were executed at Washington. The President's authority, he said, exercised in accordance with law, is as supreme in the District of Columbia as it were a garrisoned fortress, and any demonstrations or warlike concentration of men threatening the peace of the city or endangering the security of the public property or treasure of the Government could be summarily dealt with, should the public safety demand, by a declaration of martial law. The President said that he could not think that any political party would assume so grave a responsibility as a step which would necessitate such an extreme exercise of Executive authority, for he believed that that party would be condemned to lasting infamy by the almost unanimous voice of the people. The President said that he yet felt assured that the will of the people would prevail, and had yet confidence in wiser counsels than threats and intimidation.

as to the measures that may be necessary to restrain the revolutionists; and plain people will be disposed to think that something effective should be done without much further delay.

REPUBLICAN RULE IN FLORIDA.

The Democratic denunciation of Republican rule in Florida as ruinous to the interests of the State, and their specially violent assaults upon the administration of Governor Stearns are shown by the facts to be utterly unfounded. The following comparisons of the condition of the State since the close of the rebellion, as given in the Jacksonville Union, are full of interest for truth-seeking people of the North. It says: "Gov David S. Walker turned over to Gov. Reed, in 1868, the sum of $1.50 in the State Treasury. Gov Stearns turns over to Gov. Drew about $145,000 in cash in the Treasury. Gov Walker turned over to Gov. Reed a public credit on State bonds equal to 15 or 20 cents on a dollar. Gov. Stearns turns over to Gov Drew a State credit on bonds at 95. In 1868 scrip could be bought for 20 cents Now it is rarely less than 80 In 1868 there was not enough money in the State Treasury to buy candles for school-houses Now there are common schools established in nearly every county and $30 000 in cash on deposit in the State Treasury to the credit of the School Fund The J., P. and M Railroad has never changed hands but to show that its proceeds were consumed by lawyers' fees or eaten up in expenses The State has run the road since June 1, and without paying expenses until November, and reports a net balance of profits on hand of $11,000. This is the record of 'thieving carpet-baggers' and 'desperate adventurers.'"

COUNTING THE VOTE

The only judicial opinion that has been recorded by any eminent commentator upon the counting of the Electoral votes, is that of Chancellor Kent, of New York, who declared in his Commentaries "The Constitution does not expressly declare by whom the votes are to be counted and the result declared In the case of questionable votes and closely contested elections this power may be all important, and I presume, in the absence of all legislative provision on the subject, that the President of the Senate counts the votes and determines the result, and that the two Houses are present only as spectators, and to act if no choice be made by the Electors" The Tribune remarks that "There is no judicial authority of anything like equal weight on the other side, and it is known that one or two of the most eminent lawyers of New York, or of the country, who have not yet been heard from publicly on the subject, have reached similar conclusions"

NASBY'S EXPLANATION OF DEFEAT

Nasby has given up the fight for this time, but he has invented a plan for certain success in 1880 He thus explains "It don't naser to put up a man like Tilden, and stand him up between John Morrissey and Fernandy Wood, and try to make anybody bleeve in a pure government from them. It won't work It didn't work, and it never will. We hev tried the respectability dodge, till I'm tired uv it To do Democrat feels comfortable or easy in em. And besides, when you git one uv our fellows to go into clean linen, and get him everything else conformin, the chances are that he goes over to the Radikles to onst I've knowd several sich cases Tilden spent, this yeer, three millions uv dollars, and failed. Now suppose he commences to wunst with three millions more, and lays the foundashens deep and wide for a victry in 1880' It ken be done. Let him immejitly establish lines uv salun vessels to Ireland, to the minin deestricks uv England, where a bull-pup is counted higher than a baby, to the poorest parts uv Italy, and bring over, free uv charge, all that can be indoost to come. The nigger must be given to understand that unless he gits safely into the bosom uv the Dimekratic party he is liable at any minit to git into Abraham's bosom. This then wood be our sitooashen Fifty thousand additional votes from furrin shoars, distributid through the close States, carryin them for the Presidency, but the Senit, The House we hev, and that wood be so strengthened that nothin under heaven cood touch it. The nigger vote we kin git beyond question A moral idee is all well enuff but it can't hold out agin a shot gun"

It is said in Washington that Henry Watterson exposed a Democratic secret in his speech when he announced that 100,000 men would be in Washington on the 14th of February. It has been understood among the Democrats that a mass convention in Washington about that time might be called, but it was not expected that public announcement of it would be made at present.

COMMODORE VANDERBILT'S WILL. In addition to the bequests to his wife, already reported, Commodore Vanderbilt's will makes the following distribution of his property To five daughters, in equal shares, $2,500,000 — half in registered bonds of the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern Railroad, and half in consolidated mortgage bonds of the New York and Harlem Railroad, to another daughter, Mrs. Ethelinda Allen, $400,000 in U. S 10-40 bonds, and after her death to her children; to another daughter, Mrs. Eliza Osgood, $300,000 of the same securities, after her death to go to the residuary legatee, to another daughter, Mrs. Catherine Lafitte, $500,000 of the same securities, after her death to be divided in equal shares among her children; to his son, Cornelius J. Vanderbilt, $200,000 in the same securities, to his sister and a niece annuities are given; to his brother, Jacob H. Vanderbilt, $50,000; to a niece, Annie Root, $20,000; to several nephews and nieces, $5,000 each; to his family physician, Dr. Lansley, $10,000; to Lambert Wardell, "an old and faithful clerk," $20,000, to a grandson, Wm. K. Thorne, Jr., $25,000; to Rev. Dr. Deems, $20,000; to Mrs. Gordon Granger, $10,000; to Mrs. Samuel Barton, $25,000. All the residue of the estate is bequeathed to his son, William H. Vanderbilt, and the latter, with his sons Cornelius and William, and Samuel Barton, a nephew of the Commodore, are made executors of the will. In the codicil, 22,298 shares of the New York and Harlem Railroad and 21,669 shares in the New York Central and Hudson River Railroad are left to the testator's grandson, Cornelius Vanderbilt, Jr.; 30,000 shares of the New York Central and Hudson River Railroad to each of three grandsons, Wm. K., Frederick W. and George Vanderbilt; and 2,000 shares of the same stock to his wife, in addition to the bequests made to her in the will.

The Kennebec Journal says: "The President of the Senate and Speaker of the House have shown excellent judgment and discretion in the making up of the standing committees of both branches. The appointments seem to give general satisfaction."

A Washington paragraph states that Representative Douglass of Virginia, appeared on the floor of the House Monday so drunk that he could not stand without holding on to his seat. The correspondent of a New York paper which made some criticism of Mr. Douglass, Saturday, appeared on the floor back of the rows of seats. Mr. Douglass attempted to assault him, and would have done so if he had not been restrained by other members of the Virginia delegation.

NEW PUBLICATIONS

THE PUBLIC AND PRIVATE LIFE OF ANIMALS. J. B. Lippincott & Co Philadelphia. "As high as metaphysic wit can fly", and yet so close to us that one must needs feel the barbed points, are flung missiles of sarcastic fun in this volume devoted to "Animals painted by themselves." Adapted from the French of Balzac, Droz, Jules Janin, E Lamolne, A DeMusset and George Sand, &c, the interest begins with the inauguration of an "International Congress of Animals," called together to cast off the oppressive yoke of men, "who since their creation have rendered liberty and equality nothing more than empty names." The book is not, as one might at first be led to suppose, for children, save for very-much-grown-up children—those who are interested in the stirring questions of the day, and who will here find exciting themes discussed with irresistible humor, and illustrated by variously pictured animals, wearing the expression of the human family, which family by the way it is inconceivable to these Lower Animals, to accept as "originally God-like."

The pages devoted to narrative are no less interesting than the introductory account of the "Assembly," reported by a Parroquet, "whose veracity may be trusted as he only repeats what he hears" An old Hare in the relation of his experiences discovers that "women are infinitely superior to men, they never go hunting hares—men are their game"

But we resist quotation from the 358 pages, illuminated by 200 delightfully funny drawings from the vignettes of Grandville The volume is handsomely bound in decorated cloth, and the partially gilt-edged paper is of superior quality Verily, the tout-ensemble offers a continuous feast—a book, not only for the holiday season, but for all time

'SNOW SHOES AND CANOES' By W H. G Kingston. J. B. Lippincott & Co , Philadelphia One of the handsomest of the season's books for boys is this large, almost square, gilt-edged and elaborately decorated volume, containing the thrilling adventures of a party travelling in the interest of the Hudson's Bay Company when travelling through Manitoba—then called the "Red River Settlement"—and through the "Fertile Belt" beyond it to the foot of the Rocky Mountains, was more difficult of accomplishment than in these days of steamboats and railroads During a blinding snow storm the party was separated and the two brothers McClellan and their servants Sandy McFarish and Pat Casey were individually exposed to terrible trials of cold, hunger and the attacks of ferocious animals only to be happily reunited, reaching the fort in safety at last

Issued simultaneously by Sampson, Low & Co , of London, and Messrs Lippincott & Co. of Philadelphia. The imprint of these publishers is sufficient guarantee of the attractiveness of the work, but we may add that 25 full-page illustrations increase the interest of the text, and picturesquely embellish the 300 and odd fair pages of exquisitely printed paper

State Temperance Convention. TO THE PEOPLE OF MAINE As the time approaches for our Annual Temperance Gathering in reviewing the past we see abundant reason to "thank God and take courage." The success of the various Temperance Organizations, both male and female, has been truly wonderful. The principle of total abstinence, and we may add prohibition, was never more strongly intrenched in the hearts of the people than to day This should encourage us to work on until victory crowns our efforts. Therefore, the men, women and children of Maine, of all temperance organizations, and of no temperance associations, of all religious denominations and political parties, total abstainers, prohibitionists, and those who have doubts with reference to prohibition, are invited to meet in Mass Convention at Granite Hall, in Augusta, on Tuesday, at 2 o'clock P M., Jan 23, 1877 Let us come together to pray, consult and plan for the future The "Woman's Christian Temperance Union" will hold their Convention in connection with this Convention which will probably continue until Thursday night. Drew vs. Quarter.

BIDDEFORD, Jan. 11. The case Drew vs Quarter wherein plaintiff, a prominent lawyer, sued defendant for the balance of a claim for professional services rendered in a capital case, continues to excite much attention and there is a full court-room. When the evidence was all in, Lunt, for the defendant, exploded a bomb-shell by submitting an opinion of Judge Peters, 163 D., Maine Reports, page 181, where in a similar case he ruled that a lawyer could not recover professional services unless a record of the evidence was produced showing that he was a regular practicing attorney. Drew not having introduced such evidence could not recover anything but actual disbursements The case was suspended for the present to allow plaintiff counsel to search the records at Alfred for the necessary proof.

The credentials of E H Rollins, Senator from New Hampshire for 6 years from March 4, 1877, were presented and laid on the table

Mr Edmunds of Vt, said of course no one would question the election of Mr Rollins, but the certificate of his election probably was not as full as it should be. It merely said he was duly elected, and did not set forth when the Legislature met time of election, &c. Sometime a question might be raised about credentials not setting forth all the facts and he merely made these observations now to call attention to the subject

WASHINGTON

Murtagh's Request

WASHINGTON, Jan 11. The Chief of Police testified before the House Committee to-day that President Murtagh of the Police Board requested him to detail detectives to find Congressmen Whitthorne in a disreputable house and arrest him there with a view to publishing this in the newspapers and thus break the force of his report on Naval affairs, which was then expected and which Murtagh said would embody results not the affair of the investigation, but of persecution of the Secretary of the Navy Richards did not carry out the order.

Enos Runyon testified before the Senate Committee on Elections to-day, that the person for whom he drew the $8 000 check on December 6th, payable to Ladd & Bush of Salem Oregon, was Conrad N Jourdan, cashier of the Third National Bank, New York He also testified that as far as he, witness knew, W T Pelton had no connection with or knowledge of the transaction.

The House Committee's Report on the Duties and Privileges of the House in Counting the Electoral Vote.

The House Committee on Privileges and Duties of the House of Representatives in counting the Electoral vote, held a long session to-night and finished their report on that subject and their conclusions are

First—That the power to count the Electoral vote is not conferred by the Constitution upon the President of the Senate.

Second—That this power is conferred by the Constitution upon the Senate and House of Representatives

Third—That in the execution of the power to count the Electoral vote, the House of Representatives is co-ordinate and equal with the Senate.

Fourth—That in counting the Electoral votes no vote can be counted against the judgment and without the assent of the House

The propositions were agreed to by a strict party vote, Representatives Knott, Tucker, Marsh and Parks in the affirmative and Representatives Seelye, Burchard of Ill, and McDill. Republicans, in the negative Representative Knott will make the report to-morrow and will ask that a day be fixed for its consideration, when ample opportunity will be afforded for debate.

He will move in the House that two members be added to the committee, additional labor having been imposed on it by the resolution of Representative Willis which instructs the committee to inquire whether any votes have been given contrary to the prohibition contained in the first section of the second Article of the Constitution—the prohibition being as follows.

But no Senator, or Representative, or person holding any office of trust or profit under the United States shall be appointed an elector. As also the inquiry directed by Representative Kasson to ascertain whether any electoral votes had been cast by persons whose political disabilities had not been removed. L

SOUTH CAROLINA.

[illegible]

NEW YORK, Jan. 11. The Herald prints the following from Washington:

Late to-night there is among the staff officers at Army headquarters a show of nervousness supposed to arise from the receipt of unpleasant news, and which to knowing observers looks like "Boots and saddles," or, in other words, betokens a movement. A solicitude to know the latest news from South Carolina points to a surmise of other developments in the direction of that State.

"SPIRITUALISM EXPOSED" Last evening Prof Baldwin and his wife gave the methods by which they performed so many mysterious things the evening before just as some of the leading spiritualistic mediums do them, the Professor claiming that they are all done by human and not by spirit agency The pillory, handcuff, and tying tricks are so simple as to rob them of even an amusing feature, when Mr Baldwin performs them in the light in the presence of the audience All present last evening were fully satisfied that he performs what he advertises and does by human power all that the leading mediums profess to do by aid of the spirits As an interesting exhibition of tricks of legerdemain the Professor and his wife give more than some of the best "magicians" pretend to, and will interest all who may go to see them

"ELI PERKINS AT LARGE" A fair audience assembled in City Hall last evening, to listen to the humorous lecture on the Perkins Family by Melville Langdon, otherwise known as Eli Perkins The lecturer was introduced by Dr Jordan and began his "talk" by a reference to some of his relatives, taking up the characteristics of "Uncle William Perkins, Uncle Consider, Cousin Eugene Augustus," etc As he went on he aroused the laughter of the audience, and told some really funny things The portion of his lecture devoted to the explanation of the various kinds of wit and humor was by no means the least, for his apt illustrations made it amusing The lecture as a whole cannot be better described than in this statement The speaker gives in a new dress many of the things already published in his books or the newspapers, connecting them by a rambling sort of talk on everything in general.

A COPPER MINE AT BLUEHILL We were yesterday shown by Mr W. H Darling some specimens of copper ore taken from a mine discovered at Bluehill, Hancock County. He informs us that the main vein runs from the South side of the head of the bay at Bluehill village, in a Southwesterly direction for three and a half miles, and is from two hundred and fifty to five hundred feet wide. Openings have been made at some twenty different points and the vein has been struck at depths varying from five to twenty-two feet. Specimens have been analyzed by the State Assayer and are said to show about twelve per cent. of copper, with more or less gold, silver, lead and zinc. Small veins are also reported cropping out for a distance of six miles on the South side of the main vein. We understand that a corporation is to be organized at once for opening and working the mine, the location of which so near the coast is considered as very advantageous in regard to transportation, etc.

THE COFFEE PARTY.

A Large and Brilliant Gathering and a Most Enjoyable Time

The second of the Unitarian Coffee Parties in aid of the Benevolent Fund, was very largely attended last evening notwithstanding the numerous other entertainments in the city, and by half past eight the Hall and drawing rooms of Andrews' Academy and the spacious apartments of the Art Association were all well filled with ladies and gentlemen Music was furnished in both Halls by Andrews' Orchestra and dancing was soon in full progress in the different rooms The Halls had been very tastefully decorated for the occasion and never appeared more attractive and cosy About half-past 9 o clock refreshments were served and it seemed a marvel that the large crowd in attendance were so promptly furnished with abundance of choice viands, the superior quality of the "hot coffee" being as heretofore a speciality of the occasion After refreshment A company encircling the space in Andrews' Hall was organized for the German and many more than the dancers were seated to enjoy watching the pleasant scene The German was led by Mr Frank P Wood in a most successful manner, notwithstanding the difficulties attending so large a gathering, and a number of new and very interesting figures were introduced The dancers were unanimous in declaring it one of the pleasantest times of all, and the audience remained as interested spectators until near the close of the exercises The ladies had provided so bountifully that the abundance of refreshments seemed hardly diminished by serving the unusually large attendance, and we are glad to know that the entertainment was financially as well as otherwise a success The Unitarian Coffee Parties are becoming justly recognized as among the popular social institutions of Bangor

The Church Benefit given at the house of I W Hill, Esq, last Wednesday evening, was one of the pleasant occasions of the season Although, owing to the late storm the attendance was much smaller than it would otherwise have been, (only about one hundred and twenty five persons being present) and the proceeds correspondingly less those who "weathered the blast" felt amply repaid for their trouble The entertainment consisted of music readings and the juvenile dance "Cinderella" under the direction of Miss Hill with the following cast —

Cinderella	Gertie Hill
Prince Amour	Charlie Cram II
King	Georgie Lufkin
Queen	Mamie Lu[illegible]
Lady [illegible]	Mamie Grinnell
Charlotte,	Grace Lufkin
Annabelle	Lillie Hill
Lord [illegible]	Fred Conn
Courtiers	Georgie and Charlie Hill

The costumes were rich and elegant and the young Masters and Misses did themselves great credit in the performance of their parts Miss Grout in her usual happy manner, presided at the piano, assisted by her pupil Miss Cora Whitney Mr F L Chapman's solos upon the harmonica were very finely rendered proving him a perfect master of the little instrument By special request a scene from the "School for Scandal" was given by Mr Chamberlain and Miss Hill which closed the entertainment A bountiful supper was served in Exeter's finest style and the company dispersed at a late hour

THE HOLE IN THE FLOOR.

BY LIZZIE CLARK HARDY

In the primitive days of our grandfathers' time
When the fire place, genial and bright,
Its cavernous recesses glowing with flame,
Filled the old fashioned kitchen with light,
They used often to gather at close of the day,
Round the hearth-stone, that altar of yore,
But men of this modern and glorified age,
Collect round—a hole in the floor.

The grandfather sat in the chimney nook,
In an old fashioned splint-bottomed chair,
And solemnly read from the blessed old Book,
Then knelt with the household in prayer,
Their altar the time honored hearth-stone with gleams
Of the fire-light flickering o'er.
We moderns all worship 'neath fresco and gas,
Our altar—a hole in the floor.

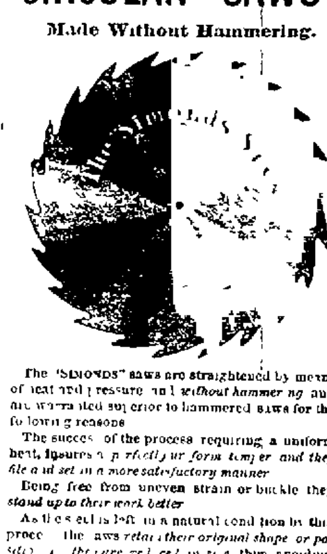

When from the old hearth stone the children went forth
To join in the soul thrilling strife,
And win themselves laurels or valiantly brave
The buffeting surges of life,
Then with world wearied hearts yearning sadly for rest,
They would seek the old hearth-stone once more,
But we, when aweary with toil and oppressed,
Return to—the hole in the floor.

When the tumult of war overshadowed our land
And our forefathers rushed to the fray,
To repel the invaders that threatened their homes,
Leaving mothers and daughters to pray—
The thoughts of their hearth-stones gave strength to their arms
And thrilled their brave hearts to the core,
But our heroes, when called on their homes to defend
Must fight for—a hole in the floor.

Then let us rejoice that we live in an age
When instead of the hearth stone's bright glow,
Or the cavernous fire place cheery with flames,
We have modern improvements, you know.
And when we converse of those primitive times,
And the jolly old customs of yore,
We will laugh as we think of their old fashioned ways,
As we sit round—the hole in the floor.

CIRCULAR SAWS!

Made Without Hammering.

The "SIMONDS" saws are straightened by means of heat and pressure and without hammering and are warranted superior to hammered saws for the following reasons.

The success of the process requiring a uniform heat, insures a perfectly uniform temper and they file and set in a more satisfactory manner.

Being free from uneven strain or buckle they stand up to their work better.

As the steel is left in a natural condition by this process the saws retain their original shape or position as they are reduced in size, thus avoiding the expense of re-hammering.

The ... quality of steel than the ... by the old method they hold an edge longer.

Large circular ... can be run at any reasonable speed with equally good results,—saws 20 inches in diameter having been tested from 400 to 1800 turns a minute with perfect satisfaction,—while ... hammered saws must be hammered differently for different speeds.

The SIMONDS SAWS received at the Centennial, a Medal Diploma and the following report of the Board of Judges.

"Circular saws of beautiful finish and form, and originality in the method of manufacture."

A trial of the SIMONDS' SAWS will satisfy any mill ... that he cannot afford to use hammered saws.

Disorder of the Kidneys.

In all diseases affecting these organs, whether they secrete too much or too little water, or whether they be afflicted with stone or gravel, or with aches and pains settled in the loins over the regions of the kidneys, these Pills should be taken according to the printed directions, and the Ointment should be well rubbed into the small of the back at bed time. This treatment will give almost immediate relief when all other means have failed.

For Stomachs out of Order.

No medicine will so effectually improve the tone of the stomach as these Pills; they remove all acidity occasioned either by intemperance or improper diet. They reach the liver and reduce it to a healthy action, they are wonderfully efficacious in case of spasm—in fact they never fail in curing all disorders of the liver and stomach.

FRANKLIN HOUSE,

Harlow Street, - Bangor, Maine.

GEORGE F. HILL, Prop'r.

This spacious and popular Hotel has been thoroughly renovated by the present proprietor. Several of the choice rooms have been refurnished, and all the appointments of the house are now first class. The Holly Water has been introduced, and the establishment is heated by steam. These improvements make the house thoroughly comfortable, convenient and pleasant.

The location of the FRANKLIN HOUSE is one of the most agreeable, healthy and central in the city. It is within one minute's walk of the Post Office, Custom House and Norombega Hall, and convenient to all the business parts of the city.

Mr. ROYAL QUIMBY, the old and popular Clerk of the house, will continue to discharge the duties of that position.

With these advantages the proprietor flatters himself that he will be enabled fully to satisfy the expectations of the old patrons of the house and make it a desirable resort for the travelling public. The table will be made second to that of no other hotel in Maine.

Coaching to and from the cars and steamboats free to guests.
